HOW THE STUDENTS OF LIBERTY UNION HIGH SCHOOL PUBLISH THE BROADCASTER

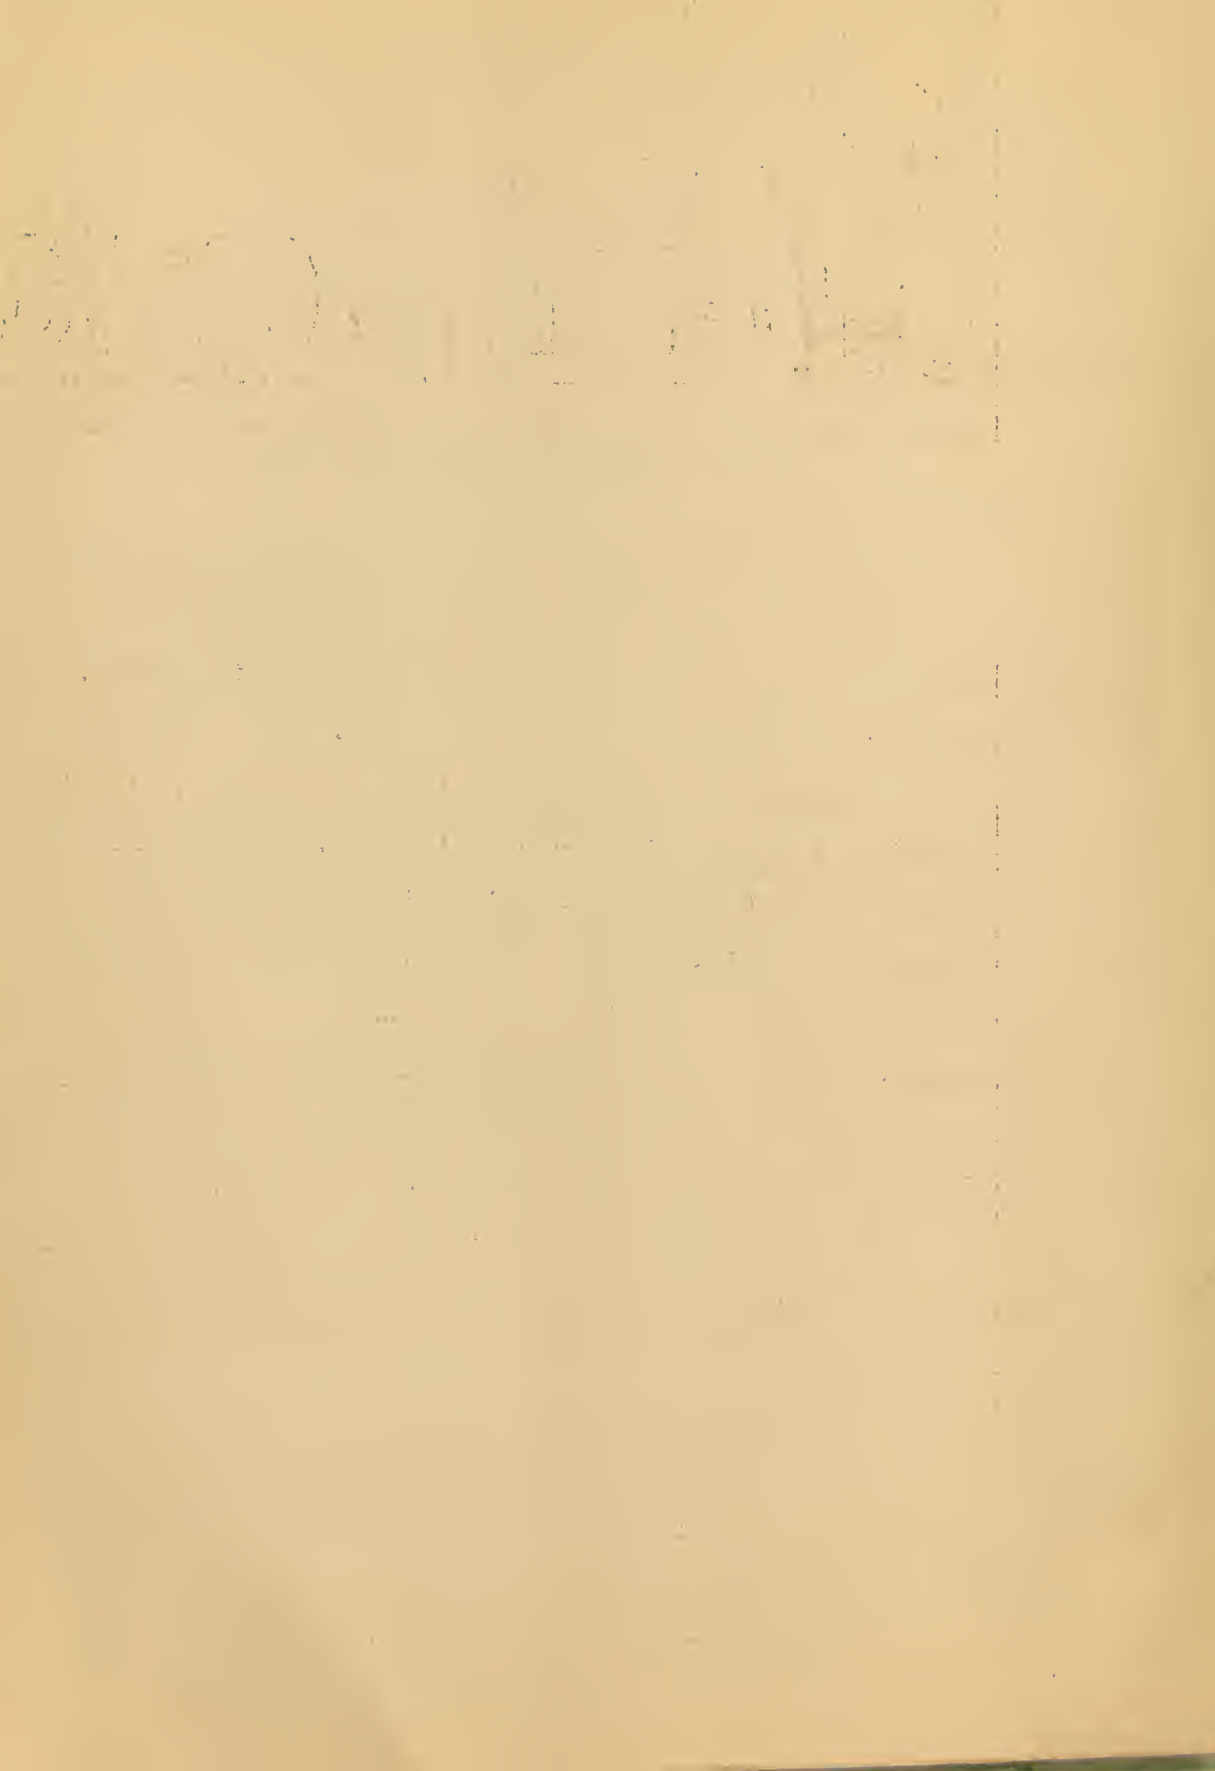

We have been asked several times how we publish our school paper. The task is not so great, because the staff-members respect one another's rights, and have their part of the work done on time. We have no "last" person on the staff. Everyone has his department written up on time.

The staff members are chosen by the Student Affairs Council from the student-body at large. This manner of appointment makes the paper belong to the student-body and not to some one department in the school.

The Broadcaster is published the second Friday of each month. The various articles for the next edition of the paper are acceptable a week after the last edition is published. These are written by the appointed reporters.

The news and sport reporters are given more time to write their articles in order that happenings up to the last possible minute may be entered.

The business manager and the soliciting manager work together. The business manager takes care of the buying of the supplies and other business matters concerning the paper, while the soliciting manager secures advertisements and subscriptions for the paper.

The art department draws the advertisements, the illustrations, and the feature pictures. The cartoons are drawn by a special cartoonist. All of the work is done gradually and systematically. The cover designs are submitted by members of the student-body.

The associate-editor receives the roughly written articles and helps the editor in a general way. The associate editor is a "roust-about-boss". He must fit in the many places where help is needed the most.

It is the task of the editor to direct the work, and he is held responsible for the final make-up of the paper.

The stenciling department does a very important part, and that is the typing of the articles on the stencils. These are placed on the mimeograph, which is operated by hand power, and the paper is printed page by page.

When the printing is finished, the pages are placed on tables in the order in which they occur in the book. The staff members then go around the tables in lines taking one page from each pile. In this way each copy is collected. The pages of the copy are straightened and are placed in the covers. Now the last touch, the stapling of the pages together, is given. At this point the magazine is ready to go into circulation. From two hundred to three hundred copies are assembled in this manner for the second Friday of each month.

Do we dislike the work on the paper? No. We like it. It helps to bring the classes of the school together. It lessens whatever friction there might be between the Juniors and the Seniors. This is true in the other classes, too. We like to work together. It strengthens our friendship ties as we bear the minor trials together. No one member of the staff has to stand any mistake or hardship alone.

How could any one person carry out such a plan alone? Only the exceptional person could do it, and perhaps then he would have some difficulties. Our cooperative staff is making the BROADCASTER a success by standing by each other, and by being strongly united.

We students are working not only for our pleasure, but for a definite aim--to accumulate a surplus above our expenses in order to add to the Gymnasium fund. It is the desire of the student-body of Liberty Union High School to get a GYMNASIUM; so we are doing our part to expand the coveted fund.

The New Year has come. We made no resolutions, but it is our hope to make the paper better and better.

We extend our best wishes to you for a bright and prosperous New Year.

PHANTASY ON TIME

Let us pause a space while all about us are heralding in the New Year with merry frolics, and draw a picture in our minds of this mysterious, unconquered force--Time. We see in our imagination a majestic, ivory throne towering aloft to the heavens and upon it is seated an aged, sorrow-worn-man--the Old Year. Yet, in spite of all the toils of humanity, his countenance is lighted with benevolence, which increases as he slowly draws to his lap a young Babe. The long white locks mingle with those of the innocent, smiling child's; the one as hoary as the Winter, the other as fair as the Spring. What confidence is in that sweet young face raised to the ever-understanding veteran--one spin of Time.

Slowly he speaks, and in the awesome silence he seems an ancient prophet of God whose words are the lessons that Time for ages has taught. With genial and sympathetic voice he counsels gravely with the Babe; recounts the problems which will be most likely to confront him, and points out his own past errors. Then gradually the fading eye lights, the expression changes from despair to hope--to hope for this, the Baby Year. His voice rises with animation as he encourages the infant thus: "Look to each day, for it is Life--the very essence of Life. In its brief course lie all the varieties and realities of your existence. The Bliss of Growth, the Splendor of Beauty, and To-morrow are only a vision. But To-day well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every Tomorrow a vision of Hope. Be then unafraid to face Time, and may thy brief era of life be even more successful, more fruitful than mine."

His voice sinks low; his bent figure droops; gradually he lapses into a profound sleep. From the Heavens a white cloud drifts to the throne, and unseen hands gather up the lifeless form.

It is gone--one Year of Time, and still beneath that throne of the Baby Year rests the world awaiting the fulfillment of the vision of Tomorrow.

FORGET-ME-NOT

It is a warm, sunshiney day in early spring. The sun's bright rays have even penetrated to the usually gloomy, dark, narrow streets of New York's tenement district.

On the sidewalks, yes, and even in the streets dozens of children are playing, dancing, laughing and singing.

Little Pierre is oh, so happy. See him jump and shout. He joins hands with his playmates and dances joyfully to the strains of an old hand-organ. To these little sons and daughters of all nations it is the music of angels.

All during the spring and summer months little Pierre plays and sings.

Now, however, the days are shorter and colder, and very little brightness visits this district. The children do not play on the streets now; they stay at home, and sometimes it is so hard to keep warm.

Poor little Pierre is cold, cold; will the spring and sunshine not come soon? See, he sits by the window, and gazes longingly at the lonely street. He glances across at the home of little Maria, his dearest friend. What is that in the window? Oh, a plant with lovely little blue flowers; the forget-me-not, is it called?

"Oh, grandmother," cries Pierre, "at last the spring has come; see the wonderful flower: only in spring does it blossom."

But alas, there are still many days before spring, and when it does come, where is our bright, happy little Pierre? Oh, he was so cold he could not wait, but went to join the angels in that Land where it is Eternal Spring.

"Da spreeng ces come but oh, da joy
Eet ces too late!
He was so cold, my leetla boy,
He no could wait."

THE TRAGEDY OF AN INDIAN MAID

There once was an Indian maid,
Who was very timid and afraid,
Her father was chief, and also guide,
He dressed in feathers and buckskin hide.

One day while walking through the wood,
On the bank of the Wabash her English lover stood.
He was tall and handsome, and rather tanned,
From wandering through this unknown land.

She stood there so beautiful and graceful,
Wondering if her lover would always be faithful,
She bid him good bye with a heart full of sorrow,
He was returning home on the morrow.

The birds were whistling a pretty song,
The bees kept busy all day long,
But Winola would sit day by day,
Crying, and pining her heart away.

One day while watching a boat come to shore
She saw one person and one more,
It was her lover, yes, her lover.
Who was that with him? No not his mother;
It was his wife, his own dear wife;
What was there now for her in life?

She stole away like a thief in the night,
Wandering home with a look of fright
Sneaked into her tent, and with a look of gloom,
She slipped into her wedding dress,
For her there was to be eternal rest.

THE BLUE

Years ago when robbers were a terror to the highways of England, a party of gentlemen and ladies was traveling by coach to London. As they became better acquainted, they fell into conversation; and it was quite natural that their talk drifted toward robberies, and what should be done if the coach were attacked. All were quite nervous, especially one gentleman who had with him twenty pounds. A lady more calm than the rest suggested that he hide his money in his boots, a bit of advice which he acted upon at once.

Not many minutes later the robbers actually appeared. The door was thrown open and a masked villian demanded money. Thereupon the lady spoke up promptly and said, "You will find what you want in that gentleman's boots." Off came the boots and away went the robber evidently satisfied with his find. When asked to explain her seemingly unpardonable conduct, the lady declined for the time, but invited all the passengers to dine with her the following evening at her London home. After dinner she would explain to their complete satisfaction. This invitation was accepted though all were highly indignant, especially the nervous gentleman who had lost his twenty pounds.

Thus it happened that the next evening brought together the small group of six at the home of the lady who had revealed the hiding place of the twenty pounds. Even the nervous victim was present.

Before dinner they renewed their acquaintances. Curiosity was more visible than before among the group. Still there was evidence of nervousness in the "gentleman".

Following the announcement of dinner the guests were given their places at the table. Hints were given during the dinner concerning the subject about which they had come to learn.

The hostess assumed an air of hospitable disposition throughout the dinner up to the time of dessert. Addressing the "gentleman" she said, "Mr. Fagan, I have been on your trail for over two months, and have at last satisfied my curiosity as well as that of the 'Scotland Yards Agency'. (Gasps of horror were heard from all directions of the table.) Having a pretty certain conception of what your prank would lead to, I had arranged for this hold-up. The supposed robbers were merely detectives in disguise. We accuse you of stealing the twenty pounds from Mrs. Hathway while she was at a tea at the Hotel Cecil."

Fagan viewed the french doors that led to a balcony. He shoved his chair away from the table in his attempt to escape. As he tried to force his way into the darkness outside, he was seized by armed detectives from Scotland Yards.

MOTHER DEAR

Mother dear, I'm so glad you're here,
Near when the day is dark and drear,
And when the sun is shining bright,
When all the earth is dimmed by night.

Mother dear, when from school I come,
I come to see my best pal, my chum.
I love to see you, and, oh, when you smile;
It seems as though coming home is worth while.

At night I kiss you, on going to bed,
You tuck me in and pat my head.
In the morn when I awake, mother dear,
I find that you're just twice as dear.

A SUITABLE HOME by Susan Wilder

Now, Reddy Linnet had found, and shown to his wife, a hollow apple tree and a hole in a fence-rail, either of which he thought would make a pleasant place in which to live.

But since Reddy's wife was very particular and wanted to live near the farmhouse, he must find a suitable location for a house near the farmhouse. Many places were suggested by Reddy or his wife, but the far-sighted little birds found something wrong with each location.

Reddy Linnet spent many busy moments about the out-buildings of Farmer John's ranch. And since Linnets are never so happy as when they are hunting a place for a nest, Reddy was very joyous. He hopped and climbed and fluttered to his heart's content, looking into a hundred different holes and cracks.

Every possible place was either too big or too little, or too high or too low; or it was where the rain would beat upon it; or maybe it was so situated that the cat could thrust her paw inside; or old Busy Hound could steal the eggs and tear up the nest.

Anyway, every appropriate nook had some drawback, and Reddy wondered what he was to tell his wife, who was waiting down in the Oak-tree in the Green Pasture. All at once he came upon the finest place in the world for a house that he had ever seen. One quick look through the small round opening that led to it was enough.

He knew right away that his search was ended. So he hurried back to the old Oak-tree to find Mrs. Reddy and tell her the good news.

"I've found the best spot for a house in all the neighborhood!" he cried, as he dropped down beside her and hopped about in his excitement.

"Are you sure that it is in a good neighborhood? You know that I came from a very aristocratic family, and I must live in a location that I will not be ashamed of when my family or my friends come to visit us," chirped Mrs. Reddy saucily.

"Yes, indeed!" he replied. "It is in a tree close to the window of Farmer John's Son's bedroom window. I think he has nailed it there especially for some little bird of our size. I told you that it is in an apple tree, did I not? We will have our breakfast very near at hand," pointed out the little bird.

At that the bustling little pair hastened toward the farmhouse apple tree. And, to Reddy's delight, the moment his wife saw what he had found, she said at once that it was exactly the sort of house she had always hoped to have, some time.

(A thought)

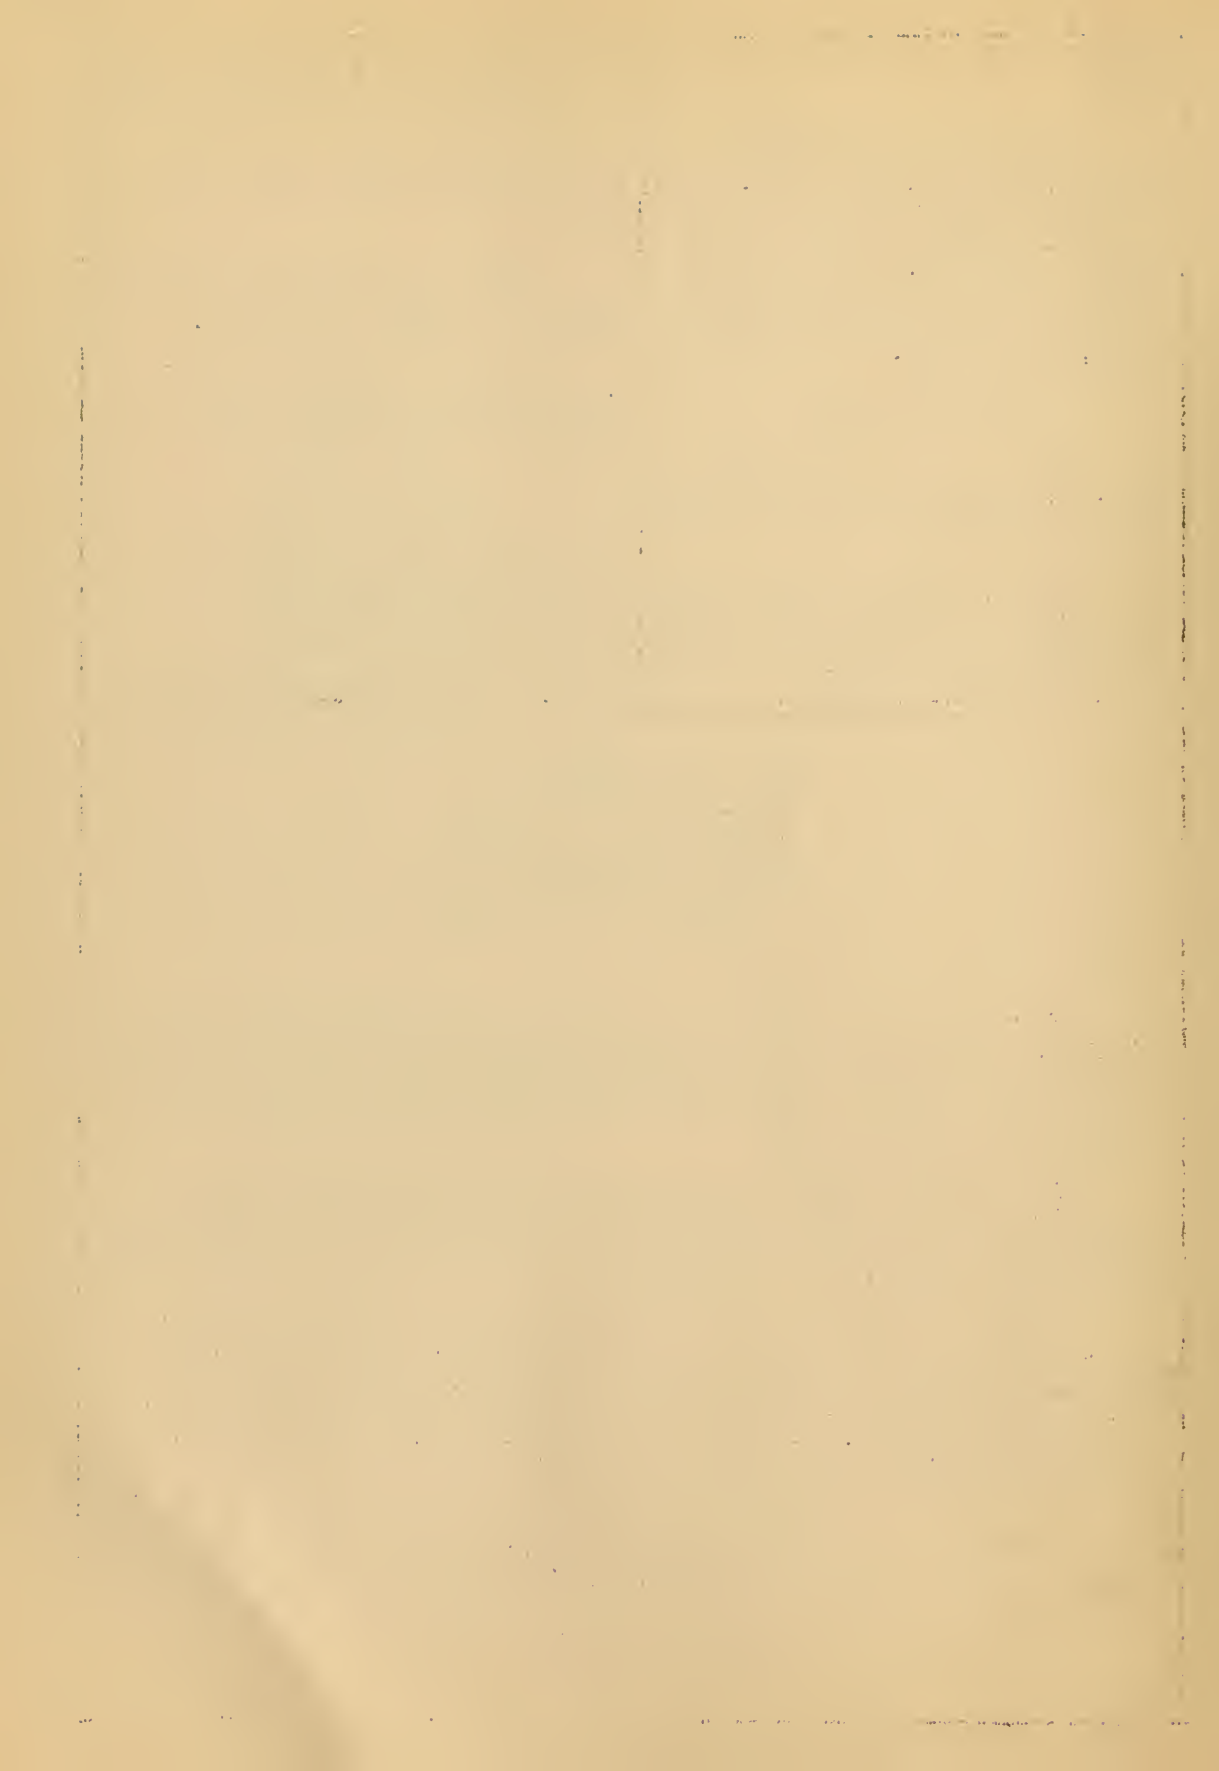

For many years we have been gaining a wider and better fame as a bookshop of the highest character. That fame has been built only through years of careful service and a belief that we are right: that California needs and will support a shop of the right type.

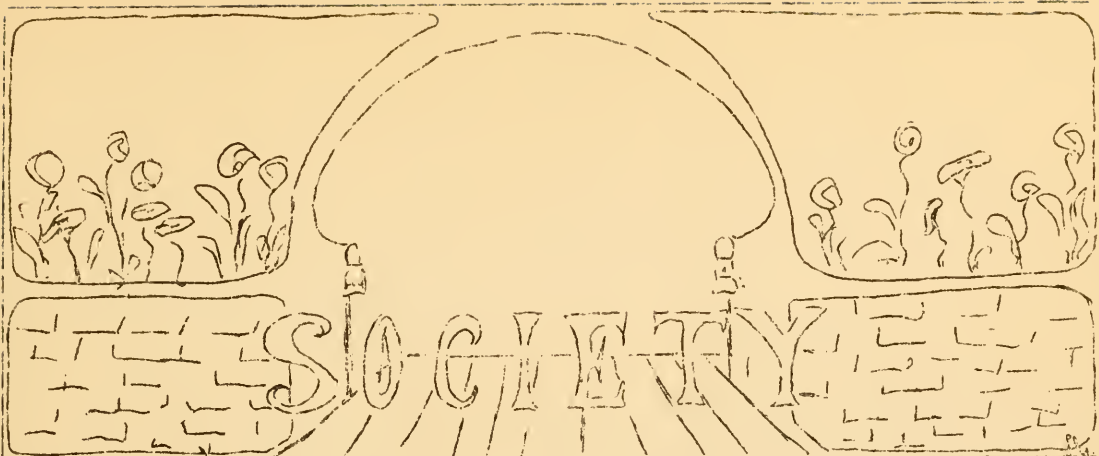

And during these years we have come to be one of the showplaces of the Bay Region--as a shop which will leave you a definite memory of your visit, of having seen a host of the best and newest books of every sort.

Get in touch with us; try our service. If you want to know the price, or date, or anything about any book--or if you want a book suitable for any purpose, we can meet your wants and will gladly supply any information. When you are in the Bay Region, step into the shop. You are sure of a cordial welcome and a pleasant visit.

NEW YEARS EVE

New Year's Eve was the scene of many gay fetes and dances in and about the town. Our students report that the dance held at the hall in Oakley was very enjoyable.

New Year's Eve was also felt with a rollicking good time in the Odd Fellow's Hall of Byron. The New Year was heralded with laughter and hilarity.

Mr. Barnes, a traveling man who visits our Hotel twice a month gave a party, with the aid of his friends from Oakland and San Francisco. A delightful, well-planned entertainment was given during the evening. At midnight a supper was served; then followed a few hours of dancing. Brentwood Hotel was alight with merriment that evening.

Miss Ruth Baxter, a charming hostess, presided over a tea given at her home on Friday afternoon, January 1. Miss Baxter also gave a party on Saturday night, January 3.

The principal entertainment of Saturday evening's party was dancing. Since many of her friends do not dance, she gave a tea for them on Friday afternoon.

After the tea, cards and lovely games were played which were enjoyed by all those present.

When all were assembled Saturday night, clever little programmes were handed around. The radio was then turned on and soon all were dancing to the music broadcasted by K.G.O.

Later in the evening a tasty, delicious supper was served, after which the dinner partners danced together. The party gaily continued until 1:30, and was enjoyed by the young social set of the Brentwood community.

CHURCH BAZAAR

The Methodist Church at Brentwood, held a very successful bazaar at the Legion Hall, December 10, where during the day dainty and useful Christmas gifts were sold. During the noon hour, a hot lunch was served to the school children.

In the evening the Ladies Aid served a cafeteria supper which the community attended and enjoyed. After the supper there was a splendid local-talent program.

Among the entertainers were:

Link Geiselman, who gave a saxophone solo, accompanied by Gladys Sullivan.

Lois Rimer gave a very clever imitation of a stuttering girl.

Mr. Carl Abbott and Mrs. Sullivan sang a duet.

The Spanish club gave a farewell surprise party for William Baxter, who left for Los Angeles, on Thursday evening, January 7.

The evening was spent in playing games, dancing, and then a light supper was served. Many of the members had tricky games and stunts which added a good deal of mirth to the evening.

Each class as Spanish I, Spanish II and Spanish III put on a stunt consisting of songs, and instrumental selections. Vivienne Lavere, who was home at this time and Link Geiselman played for the dancing. Everyone was in high spirits and put forth his best to show "Bill" a good time before he left Liberty Union High School.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Girls' League is giving an entertainment on Saturday evening, February 13. They are planning a one-act farce and a short musical number, after which we shall dance until twelve. We want everyone to come and spend a jolly evening with us. Watch for the date, March 27.

JUNIOR PROM

The Junior Prom is going to be just fine. The committees are working very hard to make it a success. We want everyone to help us, March 13.

LADIES' AID

The Ladies' Aid at Brentwood will give a "School Children's Lunch" at the Methodist Church on January 28.

The Pantry Shelf

Department arranged by Susan Wilder

Start the new year right by making the whole family happy because they can have cakes or cookies whenever they want them. Toothsome dainties are not so hard to make as some people believe. Just get a smile on your face and go into the kitchen. There proceed to try some new recipe. It is really fun to try out new recipes just to see if you can make something good.

Most children relish scones. Here is a very good recipe for Fruit Scones:

- 2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons butter or other fat
- 1 cup chopped fruit (date raisins, or some other fruit)
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
- 1 egg
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon

(This makes ten scones)
Sift flour, baking powder, sugar, and salt together. Cut in butter with knife or rub in with tips of fingers. Add fruit. Mix milk and beaten egg and add slowly. Mix thoroughly. Turn out on floured board and roll to $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thickness. Cut into squares of about 4 inches. Brush one half of each square with butter, sprinkle with a little cinnamon, and fold over. Bake in a hot oven about 15 minutes.

PUFF BALL DOUGHNUTS

Most doughnuts made at home are grease soaked, but if this recipe is followed closely they will not be greasy.

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk
- 2 heaping teaspoons baking powder
- flour enough to roll, salt and nutmeg

Place all the above ingredients together. Add the baking powder to some flour; beat all until very light. Then make into the doughnuts, and cook in very hot grease until a light brown.

CREAM PUFFS

- 4 eggs
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter
- 1 cup boiling water
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour

Boil water and butter, mix in flour while this mixture is still boiling and beat until mixture is smooth. Cook 3 minutes, and when cooled add the un-beaten eggs (one at a time). Place small spoonful of the dough on buttered tins and cook for 25 minutes. If the puffs are removed from the oven too soon, they will fall.

When the puffs are cooled make an incision in the side of each puff and fill each with whipped cream or some other desired filling.

FOR SOME FUN

If you want to have some fun when your friends come in for the evening, just think of this recipe, and have something sweet as well.

- 2 cups brown sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of boiling water
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 2 tablespoons butter

Place this mixture on the stove and cook until, when tested by placing some of the candy in cold water, it will crackle and be crispy.

When cooked, place in a buttered plate until cooled; then the candy is ready to pull until it becomes too stiff to pull any longer. At this point eat it.

DATE BARS

(Recipe 25 years old)

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 unbeaten eggs
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup sifted flour
- 1 cup cut-up dates (stoned)

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup broken nut meats
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking powder

Mix well, turn into greased tin to depth of $\frac{1}{2}$ inch. Bake in moderate oven. When cool, cut in 25 bars $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches by 3 inches.

TO REMOVE SCORCH

A cloth wet in diluted peroxide and laid over scorched spots and dried by a moderately hot iron, will remove every sign of scorch.

When poaching eggs, add one tablespoon vinegar to the boiling water. This prevents the eggs from boiling to pieces.

All of the high school papers have a spirit in common. That spirit and aim is the desire to raise the standing of each of the high schools.

The exchanges are one of the few compensations among the Staff's many trials. The exchanges help to develop good-fellowship between the many high schools. It brings widely separated schools into close contact.

The Anchor, of Anchorage, Alaska is an All-American High School paper. It is a great pleasure to Liberty to exchange with them. The students of Anchorage have been taking the intelligence examinations sent out by Stanford which goes to show that although they live many miles away, their interests are in common with ours.

The qualifications of eligibility to the school honor roll list is very high, so that only those who work get on the honor list. This is a very good plan. It helps to raise the intellectual standard of the school.

HOW TO KILL A SCHOOL PUBLICATION

1. Don't buy one--borrow one; just be a sponger.
2. Look up the advertisers and trade with the other fellow; be a chump.
3. Never hand in any news items, and be sure to criticize everything in the paper; be a coxcomb.
4. Tell your neighbors the paper is going down-hill every day; be a pessimist.
5. If you can't hustle and make the paper a success--be a corpse.---"Le Sourire."

NEWS

SOME VISITORS

Miss Annabelle Gw, a former teacher at Liberty, was recently a visitor here. It seemed good to see her again.

William Gande, at one time a student of Liberty High, visited school recently.

Mr. Edward Bangs, at one time a teacher at Liberty, spent New Year's Day at the home of Professor Wash.

Jaqueline Davis, a former student of Liberty, and resident of Brentwood, has moved to Pittsburg, where she will attend school.

The L. U. H. S. girls have started wearing their uniforms. It certainly increases the fine appearance of the high school.

The girls at the Alhambra High, at Martinez, have also started uniform dress.

Miss Evelyn Rowland, formerly a language teacher here visited Mrs. C. Moore, last Sunday.

Miss Florence Jordan, formerly an English teacher at Liberty Union High School is now teaching at Fremont High School in Oakland.

We have two new students at our school, Arline Carson, and Albert Zipf. Both are Sophomores. Liberty seems to be very attractive to new students. The schools from which the two new students came from are:

Arline Carson--Technical High school, at Oakland.
Albert Zipf--Hitchcock Military Academy, at San Rafael.

January 23 the Native Sons of Byron are giving a dance. It will be at the hall in Byron.

The Juniors of L. U. H. S. will hold their annual Junior Prom, March 13, 1926. It will be held at the High School.

DEATHS

Ralph Holdorn, the son of Mr. G. Holdorn of Lone Tree, died at Martinez, January 3, 1926.

Mrs. M. Holdorn, of Knightson, passed away in San Francisco, January 5, 1926.

Mrs. M. Carey, of Byron, who was an old resident there, died at her daughter's home at Oakland, January 6, 1926.

DEPARTMENTS

Science

The General Science class has made a wonderful discovery. It has discovered the cause of the heavy fog, but as yet has not found a way to eliminate it.

The Chemistry class of L. U. H. S. under Mr. Callaghan has been making lye. The class hopes to go into the business. We wish the members success.

LANGUAGES

The Spanish class has formed a club. They have already had several interesting meetings.

The French classes have been planning to start a club for some time. You will hear from them before long.

COMMERCIAL

The Typing Classes, under the supervision of Miss Anderson, have been having keen individual competition. The Underwood Company has already given out many medals.

The lucky recipients are:
Marian Morchio--silver emblem

Rachel Veale--Bronze emblem
Helena Keeney--Certificate

Amorette Crawford--Certificate
L. C. Smith awards are:
Vivian Chastek--Bronze pin
Melba Acrey--Bronze pin

SEWING

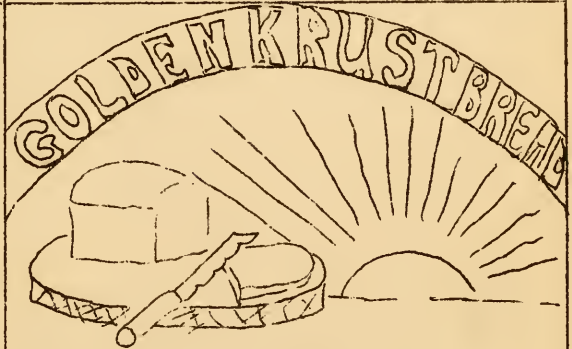

The Sewing Classes under the supervision of Miss Perow are planning on having an exhibit later on in the year. The girls are doing splendid work and it is guaranteed that the exhibit will be well worth while. You can't afford to miss it.

School

Notes

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen have not done much lately, but have been devoting their time to study. The Basket Ball season is starting, and the Freshmen will all turn out to root for their team. The Freshmen will give all the support they can to the school. They wish the school and all of the people of the community a very happy and prosperous New Year.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores sales are in a general state of inactivity due to the fact that the Juniors are preparing for their Prom.

One of our members, Fred Heidorn, has been absent from school because of the sickness and death of his brother. The Sophomore Class sent a wreath in his memory, and sympathizes greatly with Fred for his loss.

Many members of the class have been absent from school on account of colds.

A new girl member has joined the Sophomores, and from what we have learned from her, she intends to stay.

JUNIORS

School routine has begun again, and we are back at work.

It seemed rather hard at first, but now we're getting used of it.

Our President and Business Manager are already "back in the harness," and have given a hot dog sale to start the year right.

Sickness has been the cause of a great many absences in our class. Consequently, we have not been as active as usual. We are hoping for sunshine and more "pep."

Happy New Year to all.

SENIORS

The Seniors had a meeting and decided to give a Senior Stunt Show to raise money to put over our Senior Play in the right way. The Show will consist of several snappy stunts.

The Senior Play is going to be more of the colonial type than the usual modern play that is given.

One morning when the Seniors came to school, they opened the door of their major room, and behold, there was one of their classmates, Marian Morchio, with her hair bobbed. She was one of the few girls who declared that they would never have bobbed hair.

Alumni

Geraldine Sherman is attending the Western Normal School in Berkeley.

Alveretta Hamilton spent the week-end of the 9th with Juliet Firpo in Knightsen.

Willma Dainty, and her mother, Mrs. Ella Dainty, are now settled in their new home in Berkeley.

Elivra Holway spent New Years day in Oakland.

Eliff Erwin was married on December 19 to Emmett Vitt at Carmel. The young couple will make their home at Dos Palos for the present.

Helen Jansse spent the Christmas and New Year holidays with her parents in Brentwood.

Angelo Bailey, Ray Houston and Vivienne Lavere, all of the University of California and members of the class of '25, were school visitors recently. They are all delighted with college life, but couldn't resist a little visit at L. U. H. S.

Arthur Somerholder is working on his fathers ranch at Knightsen.

Henry Sellers is working at El Centro, in the Imperial Valley.

Henry Karrer, who met with an automobile accident some months ago, has been compelled to return to the infirmary on account of an infection in one of the cuts on his face.

Ferd Hoffman and Norma Mackenzie, daughter of Judge Mackenzie of Martinez, have announced their engagement. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Ray Houston was present at the Epworth League Alliance held at Brentwood on January 10.

After a long illness Mildred Gann is able to resume her studies at the Western Normal School.

Dolores Sanders, who has been ill for about a month has returned to her work at the Bank of Byron.

Clarke Brown is working for E. L. McClelland of Brentwood.

Letters or news from our Alumni or their friends are always welcome.

We are interested always in knowing what Liberty's recent students are doing.

Have you anything of interest concerning Alumni? If you have, send it in. We can use it.

BOYS ATHLETICS

Two practice games have been played with the Knightsen Farm Bureau team. We lost in both games: the first to a 14 to 12 score, and the second to a 22 to 14 score. A third game was played January 12, the score of which was 18 to 15 in favor of Liberty.

This game was won by a one-handed backward goal made by our "Kenny Boy".

The Knightsen was as follows:

Arthur Somerhauler-C.
Elmer Minta-R.F.
Aubrey Lawrence-L.F.
Joe Cecchini-R.G.
Carusoe Cardoza-L.G.

Our first league game was played on January 8, with Antioch. Both our teams were beaten. The score of the first team game being 14-7 and the second team game 8-16. The first team game was somewhat spoiled by intentional fouling; otherwise both teams played well. The weather was very cold, consequently the team had a hard time warming up.

The next league game with Concord will be played at Brentwood, today, January 15. Come and watch us wipe up the ground with them. (Nothing like being optimistic).

Genius almost always comes to the deserving. Liberty has some baseball games to win in the coming season.

It has been reported to this department that the coach of the Baseball teams has in view a good pitcher for Liberty. Our pitcher has one of those left-handed swings that few pitchers have, and the kind that few batters ever get used to. We need not make prophecies as to what our pitcher will do for us. When the time comes, he will show us what he can do for Liberty.

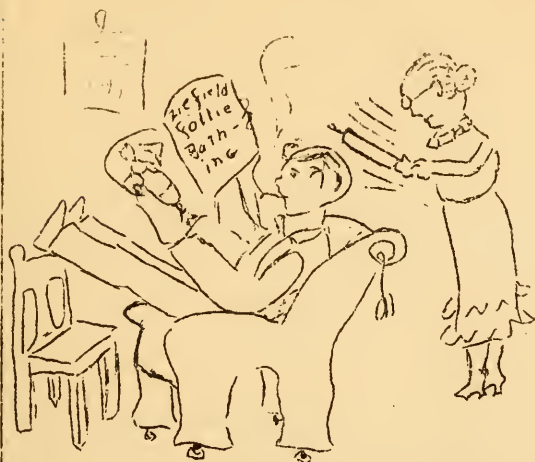

Liberty extends a hearty welcome to Albert Zipf, our pitcher. We hope he will like our school.

GIRL'S ATHLETICS

Arlene Carson from Oakland is now enrolled as one of our best basketball players.

Due to the cold and foggy weather, L. U. H. S. Girls Basketball team has not been having basketball practice as usual. As soon as the weather clears up, we intend to start the season with earnest practice.

As has been stated before, there will be no more League Games. However, we may play friendly games with the different schools of the county, and we all hope so.

A COME BACK

Rendell Burroughs on seeing a small dog with very long ears said, "If that dog does not watch out, he will trip on his ears."

Oliver Renas: "Something like you, Rendell."

NOT USED TO BEING CAUTIOUS

It was rainy and Ruth Baxter rode home on the bus. When she was getting off, Lena Noia said, "You're not used to getting off of this bus."

As she stepped on Lee Buck's toes he said, "Ouch! I'll say your not."

GOOD REASON

At a College examination a professor asked, "Does the question embarrass you?"

The student replied, "Not at all, sir, not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me!"

AT LAST

"A' hear that your wife is dead," said Sandy to his friend.

"Aye," replied Donald, "She slippit awa' on Monday."

"I'm sorry to hear that. When is the funeral?"

"Text Monday."

"Text Monday?"

"Yes. It's like this," answered Donald, "The day we were married she says tae me 'Donald', says she, 'you and me will hae a nice quiet week together', and, Sandy, 'we're gettin' it now.'"

NOT TO BE DONE

He hired out to a farmer to plow. When the horses started, he said:

"Here, how can I hold this plow when there's two horses pulling it away from me?"

WRONG DIRECTION

Passenger: (on a steamboat during a dense fog) "Why have we stopped?"

Pilot: "Too much fog. Can't see the river."

Passenger: "But you can see the stars overhead."

Pilot: "Yes, but until the biler busts we ain't going that way."

WHERE HIS FAMILY CAME FROM

A party of tourists were discussing the Darwinian theory. One of them turning to the guide said, "And what, my friend, do you think of the matter?"

"Well, sir," said the guide, "You gentlemen may all have come from apes, but as for me, I can say that my folks came from Wales."

PRESCRIPTION AND FUN

A physician was called upon to see a seamstress who felt indisposed. He inquired as to her health, and she responded very appropriately:

"Well, it's about sew sew, doctor, but seams worse to-day, and I have frequently stitches in the side."

The doctor hemmed as he felt her pulse, and said she would soon mend.

MUSIC HATH POWER

A young couple were seated in the parlor. They had the jazz orchestra habit. The cook in the kitchen dropped a pan full of dishes with a terrible crash.

"Shall we dance?" asked the young man, politely.

THOUGHT IT WAS PART OF THE GAME

Two golfers sliced their drives into the rough and went in search of the balls. Their fruitless marchings to and fro were closely observed by an old lady, with kindly and sympathetic eye. As they were about to give up in despair she came toward them.

"I hope I'm not interrupting," she said, "but would it be cheating if I told you where they are?"

SHORT TETHER

"Oh, Doctor, Benjamin seems to be wandering in his mind!" said his wife.

Doctor:(who knows Benjamin)
"Don't trouble about that. He can't go far."

HER SWEETHEART

lady: "Mary, I do not approve of your entertaining your sweetheart in the kitchen."

Mary: "Well, ma'am, it's very kind of you, but he's too shy to come into the parlor."

AS FAR AS HE WENT

A gentleman slipped on the top stair of the subway and started express for the bottom. Halfway down he collided with a lady, knocked her off her feet and the two continued the journey.

After they reached the bottom the lady, still dazed, continued to sit on the gentleman's chest. Looking up at her politely he said:

"Madam, this is as far as I go."

TWO TWO.

An old lady away down in Virginia was anxious to go to Washington and hurrying to the railroad station, she asked the trainman, "What is the next train to Washington?"

The trainman a little excitedly said, "Two two! Two two!"

And the old lady, either witty or still hopeful of information, asked him, "Be you the whistle?"

VERY TIRED

First Minister: "I preached to them two hours and twenty minutes."

Second Minister: "Why, weren't you awfully tired?"

First Minister: "No, but you ought to have seen the congregation."

AGREED WITH HIM.

Emerson lent a copy of Plato to one of his Concord neighbors. When he returned the book, Emerson asked him how he liked it.

"First rate," said he, "That fellow, Plato, has got a lot of my 'idees'."

THE ADMIRAL'S NAME

Madam: (addressing her new butler) "John, how would you address a Baron?"

Butler: "Your lordship."

Madam: "How would you address a Baroness?"

Butler: "Your ladyship."

Madam: "If you were to serve an Admiral, how would you address him?"

This stumped the butler, but finally he replied: "Your flagship."

A CONTRAST

The curate was trying to teach the significance of white to a Sunday-school class.

"Why," he asked, "does the bride desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?"

When no one answered, he explained, "White stands for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous occasion of a woman's life."

Then a small boy asked,

"Well, why do all the men wear black?"

SLOW MOTION PICTURE

"Oh, pa, see the statue they're putting up," said Billy, pointing to a figure on a scaffolding.

George Shafer walked into the office of a prominent accident insurance company and wanted to be insured.

"Are you engaged in any hazardous business?" asked the secretary.

"Not in the least," replied the applicant.

"Does your business make it necessary for you to be without sleep at night?"

"No, sir."

"Would your business ever require you to be where there were excited crowds--for instance at a riot or a fire?"

"Never, sir."

"Is your business such as to render you liable to injury from carriage or runaway horses?"

"Oh, no sir!"

"Does your business throw you in contact with the criminals?"

"Good gracious! No, sir." "You're eligible. What's your business?"

"I am a Deputy Sheriff."
